

Next Step in Trauma Care

Trauma nurses play a critical role in a patient's care, from emergency room to rehabilitation. Specialized trauma nurse education equips nurses with the advanced clinical skills, decision-making abilities, and emotional resilience needed to manage high-stakes, high-pressure situations. The American College of Surgeons (ACS) is a key leader in setting the standards for trauma care in the U.S. This new course fulfills the ACS requirement for trauma nurses and trauma centers.
